NOTES

ABOUT APRIL 2024:

April kicks off with Mercury retrograde starting on the 1st, lasting until April 25th. This retrograde comes entirely in Aries, so our energy can get wonky, and we can struggle with being impatient and impulsive and brash. Venus enters Aries on the 5th, trying to bring pleasant energy, and an Aries Solar Eclipse occurs on April 8th. The combo of the retrograde with the eclipse can signal a time for second chances, and these can be second chances that we've wanted for a long time or never thought we'd get.

The Sun moves to Taurus on April 19th, starting Taurus Season, and energy begins to slow. The Scorpio Full Moon on the 23rd can bring out deeply-held issues, emotional extremes, and serious matters. We likely need to address something important coming out of the Mercury retrograde, and this can be challenging but necessary.

Venus enters Taurus on April 29th, and helps stabilize connections and ground us. Mars enters Aries on April 30th, the sign it naturally rules, and helps us regain energy and drive after the retrograde. We can take the initiative and feel enthusiastic about new beginnings.

The Mercury retrograde starts this week, and we can feel a bit off, easily irritated, and extra impulsive. Frustration can come easily, and we need to make sure we have healthy outlets for this, otherwise we can quickly blow. There might be something that needs to be cleared out in a practical way this week, or plans for goals need to be streamlined with the 4th Quarter Moon. Imagination and compassion can run high midweek, and we can be more energized by others. We can improve intimacy and be passionate, but may also be in need of support and nourishment.

Make a plan for the week! What healthy outlets can you use for frustration, what can you clear out, how can you use imagination, and how can you get support you need:

Retrograde

The Solar Eclipse is a great time to get something off of the ground, and with Mercury retrograde in the same sign, this might be something that we want another chance with. The Inferior Conjunction on Thursday can help with energy and progress can be made quickly. Mars conjunct Saturn helps with discipline and focus, so we can drill down this week on what we want to achieve and how we can best do so.

Make a plan for the week! What can you take a second chance with and work on quickly, and how can you maximize discipline:

We may do things in different ways later in the week, and be open to experimentation. Jupiter conjunct Uranus on Saturday is one of the biggest aspects for 2024, so this is super helpful for expansion that propels us toward the future, and change that brings luck. There can be sudden developments and events. Avoid fights over power, and get a little break after things settle.

The Scorpio Full Moon can stir emotions this week in a strong way, and we may get stuck in what we feel. This can be a great way to come out of the Mercury retrograde on Thursday, and we might be gifted with more control.

Make a plan for the week! What can you transform for the better or solve, and how can you work quickly:

Imagination and creativity soars to start the week, and it can be a great time for creative ventures, strengthening intuition, and spiritual pursuits. Empathy can also be strong, and we may want to do more to help others. We can bring stable energy to relationships, and feel motivated to go for what we want personally. We need to watch for fights over power and control midweek though, and can feel more empowered later in the week. Major changes that help release or finish may come later in the week, or we may finish something that leads to major changes. With Pluto retrograde, transformations can slow, and we can adjust over the coming months to what has changed so far.

Make a plan for the week! Which creative projects can you pursue, how can you improve connections, and which changes can you work on quickly:

MERCURY RETROGRADE IN ARIES

DATES:

- Starts April 1st @ 27 degrees Aries
- Ends April 25th @ 16 degrees Aries
- Shadow period: March 18 - May 13 2024
- Inferior Conjunction: April 11 2024
- Extra: Aries Solar Eclipse on April 8

DETAILS:

The Mercury retrograde in Aries lasts for most of April, and this can throw off energy and drive. We may have plenty of energy and drive when we don't need it, and lack it when we do need it. It may feel out of our control, and we may lash out from frustration over this. It can be easy to be impatient and impulsive, but this doesn't help us get out of any troubles.

On the upside, the Aries Solar Eclipse means this retrograde has major potential for second chances. Retrogrades like do-overs, so Mercury retrograde tends to be good for that anyway, while Solar Eclipses are new ventures and high energy. Together, they make a powerful duo for taking a second chance with something. In Aries, we may not even need to wait for this to come to us, and can take the initiative on our own.

An Aries Mercury retrograde can bring more attention to our identity, who we feel we are, and we may need to address blocks to being true to ourselves and show our true face.

ABOUT:

The Aries Solar Eclipse is a fantastic time for new beginnings and ventures, starting new chapters, and going on new journeys. Energy and enthusiasm can be high, and we're ready to take action and go for what we want for ourselves. The only issue is Mercury is retrograde in Aries for this eclipse, so we may not be focused on anything brand new, and instead want to take advantage of opportunities to get a do over. This is likely the best time of 2024 for a second chance.

This is the second Solar Eclipse in Aries, and we had one last year in 2023 on April 19th. That one was supercharged since it was at the anaretic degree, and was full of energy, almost exploding with it. What came to pass with that eclipse, or what you began to focus on with that eclipse, may connect to what you're focusing on with this eclipse.

There is one more Solar Eclipse in Aries in 2025, so what began in 2023 can be built upon in 2024, and comes to the end or reaches its Zenith in 2025. Stay focused, keep moving, and be smart.

MERCURY RETROGRADE, VENUS, MARS, & SOLAR ECLIPSE IN ARIES MINI SCOPES

ARIES You get a mashup of energy in your sign, and the Solar Eclipse combined with Mercury retrograde means this is one of the best periods of your life for a second chance. Think about something you'd love another shot at, and see what you can do better or differently now to make it happen. Mars, your ruler, gives you a shot of energy coming out of the retrograde to maximize any progress and opportunities. Just make sure you're smart, not impulsive.

TAURUS This energy keeps you in the background, and you may want to focus on opportunities that allow you to work alone, out of the way, or behind the scenes instead of in the spotlight. You can do our best on your own, and can take the time to clear out, finish, resolve, and release. You may get some understanding of the past, trauma, or manage some karma. This can seem quiet on the surface, but is a big deal for you personally.

GEMINI There can be opportunities for you to pursue one of your dreams with the Solar Eclipse, but the Mercury retrograde says this might be an old dream, one you're picking back up again and giving another shot. You might've thought it was all gone, but the chance to get a do over can be strong now. Be smart about it, and think about what you can do differently. You may need to push yourself outside of your comfort zone and work independently.

CANCER This can be an epic time for progress, and you can achieve a goal that you've been working toward for some time, however this may come in an unexpected way, or may lead to something different than what you've been thinking. Or, you may focus instead on an old goal, one you'd love to get another chance to pursue, and there can be opportunities for you to make quick advancements over the next 1-2 months.

LEO You can feel bold and brave with this energy, and want to push the boundaries around your life and get out and go. You can take chances to do this, and might want to reach back for an old idea that you once thought was too big and too bold, but a chance may present itself now for you to make progress with it. You can believe in yourself, and this can lead to new experiences that thrill you, or having an experience again that taught you a great deal.

VIRGO This energy can provide a chance for you to make a big transformation of some sort, and this is the kind of thing that can be long in the making, or it might be something you attempted before and want to try again with. You can see it more clearly now, and let light shine in to expose everything you need to see. This can lead to more power and control coming your way, and you can feel strong and willful.

You can enjoy putting in the time to be helpful, and you can commit yourself to good connections. You can also focus on what you want to start from the ground up that can build for years to come.

AQUARIUS Your mind can be your greatest asset during this time, as long as you use it well. You can easily become scattered and unfocused, so you do need to work on having control over it. You likely need to keep your mind busy with a variety of projects and plans, and this can be something you manage well. You may want to pick back up old ideas and projects, and make quick progress with them.

PISCES This energy can be helpful for improving your access to resources, being more creative with resources you already have, and improving your financial situation. You can pursue financial opportunities, and can take a slow, steady approach. Much of what you do can be to improve stability and security in your life, to help you feel calm and grounded. Just make sure you keep moving as the retrograde might tempt you to get stuck.
